Introduction and Alumnae/i Association Board of Directors and Staff	Page 3
Campus Directory	Page 4
Campus Map	Page 5
Alphabetical Listing	page 6
This listing includes all alums on our mailing list, alphabetically by last name. Anyone whose last name has changed since New College days is listed alphabetically by each last name. Years listed after the name are entering year and graduation year. Unless you've asked us not to publish information about you, the listing includes, if we have it: your mailing address; home and work phone numbers; position; organization name; work city and state; and e-mail address.
Former faculty and staff members who've asked to be included on our mailing list are listed on page 50.
E-mail Addresses	page 51
Professions Code List	Page 53
Professions Directory	Page 54
Listings in this section are by job or profession categories, with a maximum of two listings per alum. The list as updated to include several revisions suggested by alums is printed on page 53. Although the list is currently limited to 99 fields by our data base program, upcoming changes in that program will allow additional fields in future directories. If you have suggestions for categories, please contact the alumnae/i office.
Geographic Listing	Page 66
In this section alums are listed alphabetically within the state and city (or country) of their mailing address.
Mentor Volunteer Form	Page 79
Update Form	Page 81

Thank you to all of you who sent in updates and corrections for this directory. We apologize for any errors; they're unintentional. Please use the update form in the back for corrections, additions or deletions.

This directory is for the personal use of New College alumnae/i, students, staff and friends. Use of this directory for any other purpose, including, but not limited to, reproducing and storing in a retrieval system by any means, electronic or mechanical, photocopying or using the addresses or other information contained in this directory for any private, commercial, or political mailing, is strictly prohibited.

Preface

We are not unlike the Census Bureau, working every couple of years to find you, count you, gather your vital information, and discover the newest twists in your life since leaving New College. We do this because we want to encourage reunions, reconnections, networking, mentoring, socializing, and just plain communicating among alums, between former students and faculty, and with New College's administrators, who say they benefit from an involved alumnae/i community. If you are one of the 300 or so alums for whom we do not have an address, or if we erred in the information we have included about you, please set us straight.

What does this year's directory reveal? The ranks of the New College Alumnae/i Association are growing: We now have addresses for 2,550 members, representing about 2,200 graduates and about 350 former students who attended for at least one term. New College continues to encourage the widest possible academic and career choices, as evidenced by the 99 "profession codes" used to help categorize alumnae/i endeavors. And geographically, alums have fanned out to all 50 states and 34 other nations.

Not surprisingly, we have an increasing number of alums (43 in 1995 compared with 26 in 1993) who believe their work defies categorization, forcing them to describe their pursuits as "other." Among the "others" are a U.S. congressman, a zoo keeper, a "director of fulfillment," and a "traveler." Former New College students continue to be drawn to the law (207) -- a natural byproduct of a liberal arts education? -- and to the classroom as teachers and academicians (227). We have an astounding array of medical doctors among our alum colleagues, as well as scientists of every stripe. There are 47 former students who make their livings as novelists, poets, and creative writers -- up from 35 in 1993. Although there are still only two alums who say they work in the fields of athletics and sports, there is an ever-growing population of alums whose work is primarily with computers (eight computer scientists, 60 computer programmers and analysts, and an assortment of small business owners, technicians and other professionals).

We are sending this 1995 directory in printed form, but the 1997 version almost certainly will be available in electronic format in addition to print, and we welcome your suggestions to accomplish that transition -- CD-ROM? Internet? Because it costs NCAA as much to mail directories and the Nimbus issues to the 2.4 percent of alums living abroad as it does to the 97.6 percent living in the United States, we are particularly interested in making information available at lower costs via the Internet, possibly using the New College home page established for alumnae/i use through USF (<http://sar.usf.edu/> or lynx http://lynx.sar.usf.edu/). If you have reservations about directory information being made available through the Internet, please give us your feedback. At least 340 of you have provided the NCAA office with E-mail addresses this year, and the information we have to date is included in the directory. If you would prefer to get as much NCAA material (including Nimbus issues, the directory, and the NCAA annual report) electronically instead of in printed form, please let the NCAA office know (ncalum@sar.usf.edu).

All of us on the NCAA board of directors, as well as the NCAA staff and current New College students who worked to put this volume together this year, hope you will make very good use of it!
